

Let me tell you about myself!

I recently graduated with my BS in design at Dixie State University. I'm a Designer that knows typography, ui/ux deign, color theory, the perfect page, rules of thirds in photography, photography itself, 3D modeling, Animation, and I'm fluent in the Adobe Suit and Sketch.

For the past 6 year but most importantly, this year. I've been expanding my knowledge in design by working at different design firms around Saint George, Utah.

I've worked at "Techie for Life" as a Design teacher, teaching programming students how to design for web, ios, and android. As a teacher, I've learned how to communicate with people and explain my ideas in a clear manner. This has helped me when dealing with clients and finding out what they "truly" want, what their vision is. I gained more communication skills while working for Techie for Life.

After working for Techie for Life for a summer. I went back to college to continue my degree works, The following summer I worked for "Flitch Creative" Which was the biggest opportunity I had at the time. I worked as a video editor, 3D modeler, Animator and more! For them. I was considered a technical designer while as was working for Flitch. Working on projects to help expand their portfolio as a design firm. I had a fun time working for them, Making planet systems in 3D, 3D robots, and other cool Cyberpunk style of work. Since I was working on a team, I learned how to corporate with co workers and learned when I needed to change a project, if I needed to start over and overall, how to work in a free flowing environment.

After working for Flitch for a while, I went back to school to finish up my degree. After graduating I went to work at the Incline Marketing Group and I'm still working with them to this day. Working for IMG has expanded my knowledge in how to design for web, ui/ux and application design. I've design a few websites for them and continue to learn more about the on going trends and new styles of web designing.

Teacher

Summer of 2017, I taught design at Techie for Life as a paid part time teacher. The program was design for people to learn life skills and have a career in the technology field after they leave the program. The main subject I taught my students, was how to design for UI/UX and for websites/apps. We learned a lot about the Human Interface guide lines, Material Design and many more subjects related to app design. In the end, my experience with Techie for Life was great and I learned a lot about talking to people, communicating my ideas and overall how to be a team player.

Technical Designer

Last summer was my biggest opportunity yet. I got a paid internship at Flitch Creative. It is design firm that has a cool cyber punk theme. They have done amazing design work around Saint George UT and some nation work. I increased my knowledge about design while working for Flitch. The focus of my work, while at Flitch was animations for videos, 3D modeling and photography. One of the major jobs I did with the Flitch team, was photographing the Washington country trail system for their new app, my job was to take photographs of hike/bike trails all over Saint George. Approximately 50 trails were documented by the end of the summer.
